Biography

Since 2004 I have been an assistant professor at the Institute of Ethnology and Cultural Anthropology, Section of Ethnic and Transcultural Studies. My research interests focus on ethnic and identity issues in Central and Eastern Europe. In 2004 I completed my PhD on this topic and my dissertation was titled Postaci tożsamości narodowej. Wizerunek Białorusinów końca XX wieku na podstawie badań z Mińska i okolic (Dimensions of National Identity. An Image of Belarusians at the End of 20th Century Based on Fieldwork in the Minsk Region). Currently, I am not conducting my research in Belarus but I am following events in this country and publications about it; I attend conferences on Belarusian issues. Recently, I have become interested in Slovakia, in particular in constructing the image of the Slovakian nation in united Europe and in the promotion of regional culture, multiethnic issues and perception of the past (e.g., of Czechoslovakia).

An important element of my scholarly research is the issue of local communities and perception of regional culture (I focus mainly on Poland). Activities of local governments, in particular using regional heritage to promote the region and build regional identity, constitute the most important form of contemporary regional activity. I have examined those phenomena in the course of my fieldwork conducted in the Kurpie region, the Poboże region (north Masovia) and the Suwałki region. In this context, I would like to mention a research project started in 2008, titled Miniatury etnograficzne. Kolekcja Kurpiowskiej Kultury Materialnej w Lelisie (Ethnographic Miniatures: A Collection of Material Culture in Lelis, the Ostro??ka region). I am realising this project together with ethnology students. The aim is to catalogue and describe items of Kurpie material culture stored in the Ethnographic Centre in Lelis. I expect to finish this work in 2011.

I teach courses which focus on ethnography of Polish regions, ethnic, national and religious minorities living in Poland, identity issues in Eastern Europe (nation-building processes in Belarus, Ukraine, and the European part of Russia). Furthermore, since 1995 I have been dedicated to teaching students how to conduct ethnographic fieldwork, within a course called Practicum in Field Ethnography. In the past I worked with four groups of students (2 years with each group) on identity related issues in Belarus. In the academic year 2008-2009, I started working with a new group of students within Practicum in Field Ethnography titled Monografia pó?nocno-zachodniej Suwalszczyzny — okolice Przero?li i Filipowa (A Monograph of the North-West Suwa?ki Region: Przero?l and Filipów).
