Zapraszamy do udziału w międzynarodowej konferencji naukowej 10-11 czerwca na Kampusie Głównym Uniwersytetu Warszawskiego.

Guest speakers: Michał Buchowski (Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań); Penny Harvey (University of Manchester); Yael Navaro (University of Cambridge); Jonathan Spencer (University of Edinburgh)

The conference interrogates political anthropology through a focus on space. What are the spaces of the political today? Where is the political located and how do different spaces shape political relations? Our interests range from the intimate spaces of the home and the body to spatialising states, to the political economy of world-systems and the geopolitics of empires, to the planetary politics of climate change, resource control, and deterritorialised sovereignty. How are the different spaces made and unmade? How do they condition emerging political configurations and dynamics? How are scales and connections produced, maintained, and unmade? What are the relationships between space, scale, and the state?
